The Studio

One idea, across every medium.

A multi-disciplinary design studio, led by Sindhur Dutta, its founder and Creative Director. We build brands and immersive web experiences, and carry one idea through every medium it has to live in.

We work with founders and marketing teams when a brand has to change gear: a launch, a rebrand, a new market, or a product nobody can photograph.

Strategy, identity, interface, motion and code sit in one room. The people who shape your brand are the people who build your website, so nothing gets lost between the idea and the code.

BENGALURU, INDIA · SERVING CLIENTS GLOBALLY

At a glance

Built for impact first. Then made beautiful.

50+

what we do

Brand, web and UI/UX. One team, from launch to scale.

We organise our work around where your company is: launching something new, evolving what it has outgrown, or scaling what works. Pick the stage, and we bring the services it needs.

Launch
START SOMETHING NEW

Brand strategy & naming
Know what you stand for before anyone designs it.

Brand identity
An identity that looks established on day one.

Website design & build
Designed around your brand, not a template.

Product & app design
Apps and platforms people understand on first use.

AI prototyping
A testable version of your app in days, not months.

Immersive websites
Real-time 3D that runs smoothly on the phones people actually hold.

Launch films & motion
Show the product working before anyone reads a word.

Evolve
OUTGROW WHAT YOU HAVE

Brand audit
Find out what your brand is really saying, and to whom.

Rebrand & refresh
Change what's broken. Keep what people know.

Website redesign
A new site, without losing your rankings.

Product & UX redesign
Untangle a product that grew faster than its design.

UX & performance audit
Find what's costing you users, and fix it in order.

Scale
GROW WHAT WORKS

Design systems
One system every new screen can follow.

Brand guidelines & voice
Rules your team, and its AI tools, can follow.

Webflow, Framer & headless builds
Sites your marketing team runs without a developer.

3D configurators
Let customers build the product in their browser.

Campaigns, social & collateral
Campaign assets that stay on brand at any volume.

Illustration & iconography
A visual language drawn just for you.

Design retainer
Your own design team, without the hiring.

How we work

The rules we work by.

No account managers and no handoffs. You work directly with the people doing the work, from the first call to launch day.

01
Fit
The first question is whether this is the right project for both of us. One conversation is usually enough to know.

02
Strategy
What the work has to say, to whom, and what it must do. Settled on paper, while it is still cheap to change.

03
Design
Art direction, interface and motion, drawn together. Nothing is signed off that we don't already know how to build.

04
Build
Written by the people who drew it. Sixty frames a second on a four-year-old phone is the budget from the start.

05
Launch and after
Tested on real devices, shipped with a handover you can run it from, then watched closely through the first months.

One team, brand to build.
The people who draw your brand build your website. No handoffs, so the idea that wins the pitch is the one that ships.

Settle the argument on paper.
Strategy decides what the work has to say before anyone opens a design file, while changing course is still cheap.

Prototypes beat presentations.
We won the Why Zero project with a working prototype built in 48 hours, not a deck. We'd rather show you than tell you.

Built to be found.
Real text, headings and links sit alongside every 3D scene, so search engines, AI assistants and screen readers can read it all.

Performance is a design decision.
We set the budget in week one and test on a cheap, four-year-old phone. Why Zero holds 50 to 60 FPS on one.

Yours to run.
We hand over sites your team can update, often on Webflow with the custom work on top, and we stay close after launch.

Selected work

Work that wins on craft and still works for every visitor.

14 projects across brand, web, product and print. Every one has its case study at bunqlabs.com/projects.

zero

Turning Why Zero's vision for education into a 3D journey

An argument for a different kind of education, told across six stages and built to run on every phone it was written for.

Leadership

A small studio. Everyone here builds.

No account managers and no handoffs. You work directly with the people doing the work, from the first call to launch day.

Built by people who want the whole job.

We hire across design, engineering, motion and 3D, and strategy, and we take on interns. Open roles, internships and speculative applications all come through the same form.

AI at the studio

AI speeds us up. Taste decides what ships.

Where it speeds us up

We use AI where it makes us faster: early prototypes, code, research and visual exploration. It helped us get the first version of Why Zero's draw-a-zero unlock running in 48 hours. The weeks after went into making the frost feel right.

What it changes

It's changing what we deliver, too. Brand guidelines now have a second reader, the AI tools your team prompts every day, so we write rules that people and tools can both follow.
